

Adélie Rousseau - Paris, FR 32 year old PHP/Wordpress Developer

Brief summary

---

Started out as customer support for a small company and as the only developer left she learned programming by taking on the responsibilities of maintaining the website.

She's currently a PHP/Wordpress developer for a IT-consultant company in Paris.

“Addie” has a 9 month old son named Damien. She enjoys blogging about DIY, knitting, crocheting and refashioning second-hand clothing.

She currently lives in central Paris but has found full-time work and a baby to be too much by her own and plans on moving back to her 72 year old mother Enora in the outskirts of Paris.

Main goals

Isn't looking for anybody in particular just something to take her mind off her current situation.

Pain points

- Entitled people.
- The current wave of close-mindedness that she feels Europe has suffered since the mass migration from the Middle East.

Features

- User ratings or reviews.
- Being able to voice call.
